Creative Advertising: An Introduction

Synopsis

Creative Advertising: An Introduction explores the fundamentals of advertising and branding, providing an indispensable overview of creative thinking in advertising practice. The book offers clear guidance on portfolio presentation, making contacts, and skills building, on crafting ideas in copy and art direction, and on working with others in the larger creative process. It is full of advice from some of the world's leading figures in advertising and is illustrated with numerous examples of award-winning work.

Miriam Sorrentino has worked as an art director for a number of London's leading agencies, including Leo Burnett, D'Arcy, Grey and Publicis, where she has created campaigns for many clients, including Fiat, McDonald's, Mars, and Epson. She lectures in Brand Communication and Advertising at The University of Greenwich, UK.

Help a lot.

I cannot wait to begin reading this book, it is highly recommended. Great buy; quick delivery. Also, the book is new and a great price.

Required/suggested for one of my classes. But it's useless. We take notes in class that obviously don't come from this book. Those notes though, now those are helpful. This book is useless.
