NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC KIDS inspires young adventurers to explore the world through award-winning magazines, books, website, apps, games, toys, television series and events and is the only kids brand with a world-class scientific organization at its core.

My eight year loves these books and has gotten them for the last few years for any gift giving occasion. She likes to read them out loud because as a 1st, 2nd and 3rd grader she's grown with them from struggling to read them to finally being able to whip through them on a road trip. She likes that while they have big words they are sentence long facts so she still feels a sense of accomplishment in reading them to us. I also love when the facts that she learns in these books show up in conversations at a later date. Great job Nat Geo. Also highly recommend Thur National Geographic kids magazine. They're very similar and support each other well. We have quite the collection of these books and anticipate our daughter will enjoy them all the way through elementary school. Heck us adults learn from them as well when she reads them to us.

My 8 yr old who "doesn't like to read" will sit for over 30 minutes and read this straight through! He loves to read it out loud to me, and my brain kind of gets overloaded with all the cool facts after a while, but I love that he is loving reading. It has fun photos and illustrations and the facts are all so interesting--some kind of mind-blowing! Some of the words are hard for him to read, but many of the words are at his reading level. I love all of the books in this series by National Geographic.

I put this in my cart last minute as a stocking filler and I can't put it down! My son and I sat and read it for about an hour last night and we still aren't done. It is so interesting that I am considering ordering them all! He loved it and I could probably read it over and over and still be wowed with the interesting facts!

This is a colorful book, although it's a little misleading. I would have assumed all the facts to be nature-related, but they're not. They're kind of random. The main reason that this disappoints me is that it was something I ordered to give to a little guy who loves animals. I hope he's not disappointed too!

I bought this for my 7 year old granddaughter for Christmas. With all of the presents that she received, she really enjoyed reading this book . . and I enjoyed her reading it to me. It is filled with interesting facts. I am now going to get the rest of the series for her as well.

My seven-year-old loves all these books. However, I like the Myths Busted books better than the Weird but True books because they actually give an explanation of each myth and why it's "busted"! Weird but True books just make a statement without any backup information.

My daughter loves every book in this series. Kids will read these time and time again!!

Daughter loves this book full of interesting facts.
