Text: English, Arabic (translation) Original Language: Arabic

The Reliance is a classical manual of Jurisprudence (fiqh) according to the shafi'i school of Islamic Law. The appendices form an integral part of the book and present original texts and translations from classic works by prominent scholars such as Ghazali, Nawawi, Qurtubi, Dhahabi, Ibn Hajar and others, on topics of Islamic Law, faith, and spirituality. Quranic exegesis and Hadith sciences. It has also 136 works of biographical nature about many of the traditionalist Islamic figures. Much of what the translator (sheikh nuh ha mim keller) has included is essential in knowing the shari'a of the shafi'i school as well as the basics of the tariqa of Abi al-Hasan al-Shafi'i. It is a must own for anyone seeking to meet his lord as a knower of the traditional path. Although many salafi's oppose the sheikh, it can never be denied that this is a work that is indispensable to anyone open to take the path as has been passed down through fourteen hundred years of classical learning. Sheikh Nuh's translation is one of deep understanding of the author's intentions and wisdom behind what he was intending to write.

Truly informative.

Very informative research

Translation from Arabic to -Western languages can be tricky. I think this is an accurate one

I cannot simply describe in words how valuable this book has being. It is such a great work that benefits the common person who has not spent time learning the rules and regulations (masaail) of Islam. I would recommend it to anyone who follows Shafie methodology (fiqh) and wants authentic book for day to day reference. Of course you should consult the learned scholars if anything is not clear or you need more clarification. The english is very easy to understand. The arabic text is side by side. Valuable comments are added in certain places. In many places references to other sections of same book is added which give further explanation of a point.

Very informative. Provides a factual lens on Islamic law and traditions.

For research purposes.

The most detailed translation of Shaf'i Fiqh ever published in English. Must have for those who follow the Shafi Fiqh school of thought.
