Jan Peterson is a high school and college ceramic teacher, ceramic artist and jeweller. Susan Peterson was Professor Emerita of Ceramics at Hunter College and a practising ceramist whose work has been exhibited throughout the world. She wrote numerous books on ceramics including The Craft and Art of Clay, Contemporary Ceramics and Jun Kaneko.

I had been looking for some time for a handbook to be able to show students who were new to clay. This has struck the right note. It will definitely become worn with use in my studio and during my lessons.

A terrific book on contemporary, and historic ceramic techniques. This book covers hand building, wheel throwing, and glazing. It also offers info on notable ceramic artists and gives lots of ideas on the directions ceramic arts can go, and have been.

Great information for my ceramics I class
